SATURDAY, JULY 31, 1869.

From the Philadelphia Ledger.

BABYLON TURNS OUT TO BE THE GARDEN OF EDEN—INTERESTING DISCOVERIES—BABYLONIAN INSCRIPTIONS CONFIRMATORY OF BIBLICAL HISTORY.

There seems to be a reasonable expectation of the discovery of the site of the Garden of Eden, if we may credit Sir Henry Rawlinson, the distinguished Assyrian explorer, and President of the Royal Asiatic Society. At a meeting of that Society held in London on the 31st of May, at which he was inaugurated, he made a speech, in which he expressed his conviction that the Babylonian writings and monuments now in the possession of the British Museum would turn out to be intimately connected with the earliest Biblical writings, and that before long the whole of the early history given in the Book of Genesis, from the time of Abraham downward, would be found existing in its original form among these primitive stone records. He also announced that in a short time he should submit to the Society evidence that the name "Garden of Eden" was the old and natural name of Babylon.

He stated that there were Babylonian documents which gave an exact geographical description of that Paradise in which the opening scene of human history is laid, answering exactly to the topography and the geodesical particulars of Holy Writ. In them he found the four rivers, or rather the four branches of "the river which went out of Eden to water the garden," mentioned by the very same names—Pison, Gihion, Hiddekel and Euphrates. He has also met with accounts of the flood and the building of the Tower of Babel, which bear with singular directness and value upon the Biblical narrative of those events. If he should realize all he anticipates he will have given to the world one of the most interesting archæological and antiquarian discoveries ever made.

Among Biblical critics it has long been a matter of discussion whence came the two different accounts of the creation of the world, of man, and of his history from his emanation from the hands of his Creator down to his destruction by the deluge, which form the first nine chapters of Genesis. The two narratives have been distinguished respectively as the Jehovah and the Elohim records, because in the one the Jehovah is spoken of as Jehovah, and in the other in the plural form as Elohim.—Probably Sir Henry Rawlinson's discoveries will throw light on the subject, and thus clear up the obscurity which hangs over that portion of the sacred text. If this should be the case, he will be a benefactor to theology and Biblical lore as well as to history and archæology.

There is nothing amazing in the fact that the sculptured archives of Babylonia, necessarily the chief memorial of tradition and belief among the Chaldeans, should be reflected in the annals of a race which came forth from Chaldea; still, the prospect of comparing the originals with the derived reports, and of finding the authentic sources from which Elohist and Jehovist drew their statements, is one which will naturally excite vivid expectations among Biblical scholars, and cannot fail to arouse very general curiosity. The cause of religion has always been advanced by discoveries in science, notwithstanding the outcries made against them by well meaning but rather short-sighted persons.

Truth can never gainsay truth, nor can we go back to the practice, whether political or religious, which is said to have laid hands on Galileo for asserting that the earth moved. "Nevertheless it moves" is true of everything as well as of the planet we live on; and if these new discoveries, or any others, interpret to us, in a positive and simple sense, legends which have been lost in the sacred list of tradition, the Biblical account cannot but gain in clearness, while the intent which dictated the record must be carried out with increased directness and force.

The character of all such investigations has ever been in the highest sense scriptural and Christian. It may turn out that the Chaldeans had traditions of Eden, of the flood, and of Babel, and that Abraham brought them from "Ur of the Chaldees" to Canaan, and handed them down to his posterity; and these traditions may also have found their way into other lands long before Abraham's time which would partly account for their universality. Let us, at any rate, know what the Babylonian records can tell about the Garden of Eden.—If Hiddekel, Pison, and Gihion, can be identified without geographical bewilderment, let it by all means be done. We have our doubts about the probability of this.

Euphrates remains, but it seems strange that the three other rivers should have disappeared so completely in a country where no natural convulsions have taken place within recorded history. Neither the heat nor the sand have been able to obliterate the Euphrates, and it is difficult to imagine that they could have obliterated the others unless they were insignificant streams. But the turn which Sir Henry Rawlinson has given to the meaning of the term "Garden of Eden" throws light on that passage in Isaiah (chap. 37, v. 12) "Have the gods of the nations delivered them which my fathers have destroyed, as Gozan, and Haran, and Rezeph, and the children of Eden which were in Telassar?" And on that in Ezekiel (chap. 28, v. 13,) "Thou hast been in Eden, the garden of God."

RADICAL ESTIMATE OF SOLDIERS.

The leading "loyal" newspaper of New York city, under the head of "No Change," gives utterance to the following:

"A friend of Gen. F. P. Blair has revived a letter, written by that gentleman in 1865, to show that his respect for the confederate heroes, which he manifested so offensively at the Long Branch banquet, is no new thing, but a feeling which he has always cherished. The letter in question is one introducing a clergyman who proposed erecting a monumental cathedral to honor of the Confederate dead, and Mr. Blair saw 'nothing to disapprove, but much to admire, in this effort to consummate [commemorate?] their virtues of constancy and courage.'"

It is not necessary to defend the courage or loyalty of General Blair against the venomous attacks of stay-at-home poltroons like Greeley, and other radical editors—including the entire lot in Chicago, not one of whom even saw the flash of a Confederate gun. His records as a skillful leader and daring soldier is proved by the history of scores of battles. He is beyond reach of radicals like Greeley, who, in 1861, instigated the South to secession, and who, in 1869, have no words sufficiently vile to express their hatred of the men who followed their advice, or of gallant union soldiers who do not join them in their crusade against the very memory of the men who fought for secession.

This persistent abuse of Blair for having the temerity to assert that the men whom we fought are not cowards, is exceedingly contemptible, and undeserving of notice save as indicative of party spirit, and of a curious tendency in the opinions of the men in power. This tendency is something which seems to have for its object the repression of many of the more gallant men who fought for the suppression of the war, and the bringing forward of a class of men who had no connection whatever—save as demagogues and politicians—with the war for the union. One sees, to-day, in the awards of honor by the ruling party, the ignoring of such men as Meade, Slocum, Warren, Thomas, McClellan, Hancock, and many others. Among the list of fortunate ones, we see such men as Butler, Banks, Cochrane, Spinola, Sickles, and others, of whom some were in the army but a few months, while of the others not one ever performed a deed that entitles him to a single preferment. It is true that Sherman was promoted to the vacancy caused by Grant's election to the Presidency; but this was something which could not have well been avoided.

Where will this disposition to ignore the real heroes of the war end? No man who fought the Confederates, who is a soldier at heart, and who can appreciate the existence of courage and genius in a foe, will consent to ally himself with a party which insists, as a cardinal principle of its faith, upon hatred and detraction of the men who fought in the Confederate armies. Every true soldier has an admiration of a foe who displays the qualities of courage and tenacity. No such man will belittle the foe with whom he has lately been interlocked in deadly combat, for the reason that his soul rebels against such meanness, and for the further reason that all depreciation of the man whom one has conquered is just so much a depreciation of oneself. From this state of things, it has resulted that a majority of those men whose efforts were prominent in behalf of the Union are not in sympathy with radicalism. They cannot act with that party without self-stultification. They must, if they join that party, immediately charge themselves with cowardice, by being always ready to charge that quality upon their late enemy. If they wish to affiliate with the Greeleys, and Colfaxes, and Wades, they must ceaselessly charge incompetency upon the men whom to conquer required some four years of fighting. To assert to the contrary will draw upon the man who does it the hisses and disapprobation of his listeners, and the maledictions of the radical press. No soldier can become a radical in good standing until he subscribes to the following confession of faith:

"I do hereby solemnly acknowledge myself to be a coward and an incompetent soldier, in that, with all the superiority of forces on our side, we were enabled to conquer the craven hearted Confederates of the South in less than four years. I believe all Southern soldiers to have been the veriest sneaks in existence, and I hereby pledge myself so to assert on all occasions, despite the fact that, every time I belittle my enemy, I proportionately belittle my own efforts against him. To all of which I pledge myself, my children, and children's children, so help me John Brown; and to the security of this, my promise, I pledge my hopes of office."—Chicago Times.

THE SENTINEL.

JOSIAH TURNER, Jr., EDITOR.

SATURDAY, JULY 31, 1869.

Conservative and Democratic Nominee.

FOR SENATOR,

FOR THE NINETEENTH DISTRICT,

JOSHUA PERRY,

OF FRANKLIN.

A WORD TO THE GOVERNOR.

Children, however old, should never get beyond the controlling influence of their parents. Detectives, however bold, should never get beyond the control of their Chief.

We deem it proper to inform you that your son Joseph and your said detectives have visited our office with evil intent.

We shall not mention your son's visits, as they were made sometime ago, and, if not under your advisement, we have reason to believe they had your subsequent approval.

The day you spoke to the mob in the City Hall, and so stirred their blood, that the Chief of Police cocked his pistol and threatened to shoot the man who was guilty of a breach of the peace, your detective, that night, sat at the door of our office for some time before we knew he was there. He came recently to have corrected a speech he made to his men in Newbern. Your Detective should communicate in writing, and through third persons.

We will not do your son or detective injustice; any incorrect statement made of them we will correct. As you will, and should be, held responsible for the acts of your own detectives, it is proper that you be advised of their improprieties.

THE MOB IN PITTSBORO'.—The Standard of this morning gives an account of the release of Dorset Davis, confined in the Pittsboro' jail for violation of the revenue law, by an armed mob, on Saturday night last. The Standard draws it very mild, and is not half so indignant as it usually is in announcing such acts of lawlessness. Perhaps this is referable to certain facts antecedent to, and connected with, the affair, which we proceed to give.

In the first place, the act was according to precedent set in that County by the U. L. A's and the H. O. A's.

Last September or October, in open daylight, during a rain storm, a company of negro leaguers of Chatham County, broke open the jail in Pittsboro' and released some seven or eight prisoners, all colored, among them one or two under a charge of murder.

During the last Fall term of Chatham Superior Court, two white men, both members of the League and H. O. A's, were convicted of hog-stealing and sentenced by Judge Tourgee to a short (and, as many thought, inadequate) term of imprisonment. On Sunday evening, while the Church bells were ringing, and within fifty yards of where Judge Tourgee was staying, the Leagues released these two convicts, together with several other prisoners, (two of them confined on a charge of burglary) by ascending to an upper window of the jail on a ladder, and with axes and poles opening the doors of the cells in which the prisoners were confined.

About a month ago, two convicted murderers, John Smith and Nero Davis, both colored, and another colored prisoner, having been furnished tools from without, had nearly affected their escape from the jail, there being only one screw of the last lock to be removed, when Dorset Davis, who was in one of the lower rooms, gave the alarm, and they were secured and returned to their cells. They have since declared that, if they can get at Dorset Davis, they will kill him for giving the alarm, and the authorities of the county have since been very cautious not to let any one approach the convicts to give them the means again of effecting their escape.

With regard to the release of Davis, last Saturday night, there are two solutions.—Davis is a Radical and is thought to be a member of the league, and it is conjectured that the mob who released him consisted of his brother leaguers who came to help him in "his time of great need."

The other solution is that Davis's friends forcibly released him to prevent his being murdered by the prisoner whose escape he had been instrumental in preventing, as they had sworn to take his life if they could again get down to his cell, which former occurrences warranted his friends in concluding they might be enabled to do.

There is one more remotely probable solution, and that is that the mob intended to release the negro murderers, but failed on account of the additional precaution that had been taken in increasing their irons, and that Davis escaped while they were making the effort; and that, finding they could not easily release the prisoners, and fearing detection if they tarried, they locked the jail and left.

From the facts given above, all of which are well known and can be fully substantiated, it is very clear who, or what class, of persons, are chargeable with the lawlessness manifesting itself in that part of the State.

TO CAPT. BOZIER.

You came in my absence, as I am informed, to demand a correction of the statement that you said to your men at Newbern, "Boys the people of Kinston and Goldsboro' have been giving us the devil through the papers, and if you do anything I shant stop you, but I don't advise you to do anything."

It is not proper for you to visit our office after accompanying Joe. Holden and the mob to the depot to attack us. We gave the account of your speech as it was given to us, just as we did about Dr. Grissom inviting the negro to dine and not allowing him to sit at the table with the gentlemen. We do not vouch for it. We may have been misinformed, but one of your Company says you did make use of words of the character attributed to you in the Sentinel, and that he will knock your head off of your shoulders if you deny it to him.

NEWSPAPER CORRESPONDENTS.—Those who write for newspapers ought to observe the following rules:

1. Don't write without having something to write about.

2. Don't write long communications—few people read them.

3. Don't write on both sides of a sheet of paper. Many communications fail to appear on account of a non observance of this rule.

4. It is a good rule to leave out most of the adjectives in descriptive articles.

5. Always do your own punctuation, mark your own paragraphs and write plainly.

6. Don't get mad with the editor if your communications don't appear as soon as you think they ought to, and be only slightly vexed if they be rejected altogether.

7. It is better always to put your own proper names to communications abusing anybody, then the editor will not have to bear the blame.

8. When a communication is designed to puff a business or enterprise of an individual, that is not of general interest to the community, it ought to be paid for as an advertisement.

9. Don't send the raggedest money you have to the printer, when you happen to send any.

THE editor of the Wilmington Journal sojourned a day in our city last week, in the Journal of Friday he says:

During a recent visit to the State Capital we were agreeably pleased with the great improvements going on there.—Throughout the entire business portions of the city numerous large and handsome business houses are being built. Some of the stores will almost rival the magnificent one of the brothers Tucker, which is by all odds the largest and finest store room in the Southern States, so far as our observation has extended.

Many beautiful residences have recently been erected, and old ones improved. In a word, there is an air of thrift and prosperity about Raleigh which we have not before noticed. It is the surest evidence that the farmers in the middle portion of the State are recovering from their prostration, for upon their success the prosperity of Raleigh at present depends. There is no reason why it should not be the seat of large and prosperous manufactories and business enterprises, and we hope that permanent prosperity and large increase of population will rapidly flow from its present prospects.

We were, of course, the guest of Blair, the well-known host of the Yarborough Hotel. The good treatment one receives there gives a kindly feeling for Raleigh, even were he a total stranger to the noble people and delightful society of that city. Upon the site of the old Guion Hotel, a magnificent hotel is being erected by Dr. F. J. Haywood, which Blair has leased. He expects to move into his new quarters during the Fall, and we know that nowhere in the United States will the traveler find a more delightful home.

For the Sentinel.

MR. EDITOR:—One of the most destructive fires that ever occurred in Chowan county took place on the farm of Mr. Wm. H. Elliott, in that county, fifteen miles from Edenton, on the afternoon of Wednesday, 21st July, inst. The fire entirely destroyed the large dwelling house, kitchen, laundry, smoke house, store rooms, two large servant's houses, brandy house, and many other out-buildings, making, in all, eleven buildings consumed. Six outbuildings were saved, by the exertion of neighbors who gathered in, though most of them were on fire at different times.

Mr Elliott loses by the fire three thousand pounds of bacon, a large quantity of corned fish, several hundred pounds lard, coffee, and a large quantity of other domestic stores; much of the house-hold furniture and family clothing was burned, and that which was saved was much damaged. The money and papers were fortunately saved. Two neighbors, white and black, rendered effective service in saving much that would have been otherwise destroyed, and two of the daughters of Mr. Elliott displayed a courage and presence of mind not often found even in the bravest of the sterner sex. To them is to be attributed the saving of much of the furniture that was saved, they continuing in the burning house, handing out articles, until driven out by the flames and falling timbers.

Mr. Elliott's loss is estimated at $8,000. The fire originated from a cooking stove in the kitchen through the carelessness, it is thought, of the cook. The loss falls heavily on him, he having already suffered heavily during and since the war.

EYE WITNESS.

TURKISH RAIL ROADS.—Letters from Vienna state that the four principal financial institutions of that capital have united to take part in the construction of the Ottoman railways, for the execution of which a capital of 80,000,000 francs is required.—Those companies are: The Austrian Credit Mobilier, the Austro-English Bank of Vienna, the Bankverein, and the Austro Hungarian Bank. Around them will be grouped the chief credit houses of Austria and other countries, so that the capital may be already looked upon as subscribed. The Austrian market is ready to provide two thirds of it.

A Calcutta savant named Cameron, has startled India by the affirmation that a race of tailed men and women are to be found in the forests of Borneo. He says that his information comes from Sarawak traders, who state that this "missing link" race live in the trees, have bows and arrows, and other rude implements, and subsist entirely by hunting. Mr. Cameron proposes an expedition in search of this curiosity, and the "Indian Daily News" so far believes in him as to assist in raising the necessary funds.

GREAT SPEECH OF SENATOR ABBOTT.—SPEECH PRONOUNCED BY GOV. HOLDEN A DECLARATION OF WAR AGAINST THE NATIVES.

In 1863 a native in the Standard spoke thus:

"I noticed to day in a Richmond paper, where a Virginia Colonel has been appointed over a North Carolina regiment. Why is this? Have we not men smart enough in North Carolina to be placed over North Carolinians? I know we have. Then I am sorry to see such management carried on. I say let North Carolinians rule North Carolina. It is a sting to every North Carolinian to have officers appointed over them from any other State than North Carolina. Can't we fight without Virginians to lead us, or are we too unworthy to have the honor of being an officer? or is a Colonel's wages too much for a North Carolinian? North Carolina, I love thy name. See then that thy sons are not deprived of their rights."

The Governor published this and endorsed every word of it. Now read Abbott's speech and see if it is not "war," as the Governor said, upon natives:

MR. PRESIDENT AND FELLOW-CITIZENS OF WILMINGTON:—I have kept aloof from the contest now going on for the position left vacant by General Estes, and now appear with some reluctance.

It has seldom happened that I have been called upon to address the citizens of Wilmington under circumstances like those under which we assemble to night. Heretofore we have contended with the natural opposition of the Conservatives or Democrats in a struggle for our rights, for good government and liberal laws. To-night we contend among ourselves. Discord has entered the 11 herto undivided Republican party. Faction has invaded it. The baser passions of men have been appealed to and consequently aroused. Charges, infamous if true, have been hurled by Republicans at Republicans. And above all, that meanest and most despicable of all prejudices, the prejudice of nativity, has been called up and used by so-called Republicans against men reputed for long and faithful services to the party and the country. The faction of men resorting to base means for obtaining their end meet my disapproval and condemnation, and I propose to discuss somewhat the movements and tactics of that portion headed by Mr. Larkins. I would like to ask a few questions. Do they attack private character? No. Do they arraign any measures for discussion? Very little of any.

What do they do? Why they raise the cry there was a clique somewhere. That that clique was composed of Northern men—and their speeches were abusive and scandalous tirades upon Northern men and Republicans.

I must say that I listened one night with mortification and shame to several of those speeches. And I will tell you why. The measures of the Republican party in the South are, as I believe, vital to the welfare of the great body of the people, and that it must be more than a personal reason—it must be a very grave reason which will induce any man to take a step which may impair the vigor of that party.

Was this occasion sufficient?

The Senator then proceeded to expose the exceeding childishness of the excuses given by the men affecting to be Republicans; who now support Mr. Larkins, and follow the banner of Price.

He was frequently interrupted by applause of the most enthusiastic character.

Senator Abbott then proceeded to say:

Permit me to direct your eye to the comprehensive nature of the Republican party.

It originated the great measures which are now the policy of the nation.

It elected Lincoln on the most humane and enlightened platform.

It was the back bone of the war, and defended the country.

It gave you your liberty and consequent rights.

It is to-day the controlling power among the American people, ruling them as I think for the most beneficent purposes.

I therefore distrust any man who would mar the integrity of this party.

Now, sir, I have something which I wish to say in regard to these repeated attacks upon Northern men here, and in regard to certain indications which have appeared elsewhere.

First, I say that I will permit myself to know no difference in public affairs between natives of this and natives of other States. Show me the man of honesty, of liberality, of firm and inflexible principles and patriotism, and I care not on what spot of earth he was born, I recognize him for what he is, and esteem him accordingly. We should all be false to the principles of the fathers—we should ignore the history of our country if we yielded to this miserable and senseless prejudice and rated men according to the place where they were born.

* * * * * *

This idiotic and drivelling ridicule of carpet-baggers was never heard of until it was conceived in the addled brains of ex-rebels and traitors in the South, because the thousands of Northern men who settled here at the close of the war did not choose to forswear their principles, but rather to set as independent citizens, in defence of the laws, and the rights of the colored race. I can imagine why a Southern Conservative might have opposition to Northern Republicans who have mixed in public affairs, because they are our natural opponents. But if there is one thing on earth more despicable than another, it is a Southern Republican, who, having received privileges at the hands of Northern men, aye! by Northern bayonets,—who have moaned whined around every headquarters of any commanding officer in the South over his own hair breadth escapes from hanging, and his oppression and ostracisms, and his fidelity to the Union,—it is he who now turns about and assails those very Northern men who gave them their privileges—as "carpet baggers!" If there is one thing more despicable on earth than this, it is a Northern man and soldier, who, for some paltry party purpose—on account of some private pique—some little quest on of personal precedence, will join in or assent to those assaults. Such men are entitled to no respect while they live. They are mercenaries while in arms.

This most wretched and lamentable exhibition is just what we have just seen, here on the Cape Fear. Men who could not have walked these streets had it not been for the strong arm of the government, backed by Northern muscle and Northern brains, now join in the infamous cry against carpet-baggers.

Now, sir, I for one have done with this. I tolerate no more of it. I temporize no further. I ask no quarters. I give no quarter! I sound the alarm! I utter the sentiment which now burns in the breast of every decent Northern man in the South. I record the sentence as implacable as that written on Corinthian brass or of Parian marble—now and hereafter, forever more, political death, and political damnation after political death to all who shall assail a Norther man in this country as such. I hereby declare I will support no man who raises that distinction. I hereby solemnly asseverate that I will not sleep until this infamous spirit shall be ousted. I call for the forming of the line, here and now, of all men who will swear with the oath of Hamilcar that they will obliterate this foul distinction from the Republican party. I sound on the Cape Fear, the war cry—and I will sound it from height to height and from valley to valley over this State—until the people of the State shall mete out vengeance to every dastardly wretch who shall place, nativity before manhood, or seek to destroy the unity of the party we have established after such toil and bloodshed.

After a soul-stirring appeal for harmony in our party and a beautiful reference to the eclipse now about to darken the face of nature only to reveal new glories to the eyes of men, the Senator took his seat amid great applause.

Correspondence of the Sentinel.

THE LOUISBURG RIOT.

Some individual "to fame (and to truth) unknown" who uses the little alphabetical cognomen, "T" as a shield to protect himself against the just indignation of all conscientious and truth loving people, and hide himself in his wicked and unscrupulous disregard for that veracity which always exists among gentlemen, furnishes that "Conservative sheet" the Standard of a recent issue, what he calls the "facts" of the riot which he and his co-adjutors, wrought upon this community on the 5th. The allusions therein made to your correspondent, could not of themselves, have provoked him to reply, but the unwarrantable aspersions, upon some of our citizens and the county and town officials; and the outrageous misrepresentations of "the facts as they were," demands that "I" and his article should be ventilated. It is not my purpose to handy epithets with "T" any farther than to assert that I will tell the truth upon him; the truth being so thoroughly uncongenial to his every sensibility, I think it the severest thing that can be said of or about him. "I" says that he thought that he would treat your correspondent with contempt. I have no doubt he felt a degree of contempt—for his own worthlessness, as he knows him's if, and as your correspondent very clearly showed him him to be.

So far as the confusion and disorder is concerned "T" says everything was quiet and orderly until the report of the Committee." The Convention met at ten o'clock, there was no business to be done, but to send out the Committee except John Williamson's personal explanation, of course. But the Committee did not get out until after twelve o'clock; so the meeting was from ten till after twelve cursing and swearing over the Committee, and such subjects as suggested themselves. The return of the Committee was the signal for "some confusion" as "T" calls it. If that was only "some confusion" what can a pandemonium be? For about four hours "confusion worse confounded" never existed in so small a compass. It was evidently a concentration of all those discordant and brutish elements which are the controlling characteristics of the lower type of the human animal. "T" says "one negro Republican, backed by three whites," created the confusion.—Let us see; the Convention adjourned, or rather left the Court House, about 5 P. M. It sat from 10 to 5. Quite all had left the hall, when this negro approached James Harris, the Chairman, and insisted upon knowing something. Jim pushed him off of the bench, and threatened to give him a club over his head. This negro was told by some gentleman, if Jim Harris struck him, "to thrash him like the d—l and they would back him." About this time Harris very suddenly disappeared from the Court House. This "drunken negro Republican" demanded an explanation from Harris for his conduct towards him. But Harris did not wait to give it to him.

Now about the Mayor. He was called on to arrest some negroes for their noise. He declined to have anything to do with the affair. To have arrested all who were noisy would have broken up the whole concern, for all were in it from the Chairman down. The Mayor did not then, nor does he now, think that a negroe's demanding a "Jack Fee" from Phil. Hawkins, or calling Jim Harris the Chairman, a d—d fool, was either a violation of the peace and dignity of the State or the dignity and propriety of the occasion. They were all seekers after happiness in their own peculiar manner, and it would have been an assumption of power on the part of the Mayor, for him to have impeded them in the least. It is not the duty of the officers of the law, to interfere with family matters, only when they intrude themselves upon the peace and dignity of society, and no intrusion was thus made in this instance, as neither peace nor dignity were ever known, to that society which composed that Convention, from the Chairman and his few white allies in particular, down, down, down, if there be any lower deep than they occupy.

"T" says those three white men and the drunken negro occasioned the difficulty.—It is well known by black and white and "T" as well, that Farriss' approaching Capt. J. J. Davis in the manner already published, was the whole cause of it. I am assured by a gentleman—a prominent Republican—that the whole affair was premeditated by the party, and done to influence the negroes against the whites. That there is some reason in this is unquestionable. It was discovered to be imperatively necessary to secure unity of action in their party, in orper to obtain success; and as all their peaceful efforts had failed, they resorted to this disturbance in order to accomplish their purpose. Their object was infamous, but their manner in accomplishing it far more so—but eminently worthy of the parties who instigated it.

"T." says that Col. Harris was called upon by both white and colored, and by a Magistrate, saying that "the three white men had their pistols drawn on Galloway, &c." After Farriss was helped out of Mr. Minnetree's store by the irresistable propelling power of a piece of leather attached to a gentleman's foot, and found his way to Dent's Hotel, Galloway came down, with stick in hand, backed by a large crowd of negroes, and demanded the man who struck Farriss. The gentlemen, who were present at the time Farriss left, were standing on the sidewalk in front of Mr. Minnetree's store, and Galloway, with his mob, was on the edge of the ditch, immediately facing them. Galloway's threatening position caused each of the gentlemen to draw their pistols, and, but for efforts on the part of several, would have used them. Had Galloway ventured nearer he would have been a dead man, despite all the efforts to have saved him. The Sheriff, Mayor, Magistrates, and many of our citizens, exerted themselves to disperse the negroes and preserve order. The three white gentlemen, "T." would make responsible for the disturbance, were not at all aggressive, but were determined and prepared to defend themselves against any attack that might be made upon them. Galloway was gotten off, and he and his crowd were soon quieted. While this was being done "Col." Harris was engaged in "calling his hundred men into line." It was not five minutes from the time Farriss ran up the street before Harris commenced getting his mob together. "T." would make it appear that Harris only resorted to this to preserve the peace. When Harris was approached, while he was calling his mob together, and asked to desist, he drew his pistol, brandished it, and declared that "the three whites had attacked Farriss with drawn pistols; that he would take his militia, arrest and disarm them or kill them where they stood." He was assured, time and again, that all would be quiet, if he would keep quiet himself, and disperse the crowd of negroes, who were then forming into line; but he persistently refused to do anything towards quieting the mob. To show how unnecessary it was for Harris to act, he was assured by the Sheriff, and many others, that the white gentlemen were quiet, and that Galloway and his crowd had dispersed, and were safe. But he insisted that he was "Colonel of the 40th militia, and that he intended to show the d—d Democrats that he had some authority, and that they could not run over him, &c." Said, time and again, that "he would arrest them at all hazards, and disarm them, and, if necessary, would take them to Raleigh, and if the Sheriff and Mayor were not very careful he would take them also," and so on, words to that effect. He thus resisted all efforts to quell the disturbance, and being backed by Farr s and the drunken negroes, started down the street, declaring that he would "take them or kill them." When he reached the front of Mr. Minnetree's store—not within ten steps of the ditch alluded to, (though "T" says he crossed it) he was met by Capt. J. J. Davis, Mr. Benjamin T. Ballard, Mayor Pleasants and others. "T" says these gentlemen assured Harriss, that "the three white men had been arrested a few minutes before, and would be brought before a Justice." This is a most palpable, unequivocal and wilful perversion of the truth. I will state what was said at the time, as told me by the gentlemen themselves. Mr. Ballard met him and said: "I am a Peace officer; I command you to halt." Harris replied that "some persons had arms drawn on some of his party, and that it was his, (Ballard's) duty to disarm them." Mr. B. said that "he would be glad to disarm both or all parties, but doubted his power to do so." Capt. Davis then observed, that the gentlemen who had drawn their arms were willing to surrender themselves or their arms to legal authority, but would not to him, (Harriss.) Mayor Pleasants told Harris that he, (Harriss) had no authority what ever to arrest those men, and if he attempted it, he would be resisted; to disperse his mob and keep quiet." Mr. Ballard also remarked, to Harriss, "that he, (Ballard) was not aware that pistols had been drawn before, but the law would take proper cognizance of the matter; for him to keep quiet." The three white gentlemen were then quietly standing near Mr. Brown's store, and so soon as they saw Jim Harriss and his crowd coming down street, they drew their pistols as I prepared for defense; it seems that James caught sight of the pistols, and was "satisfied with the assurance of Mr. Ballard, Mr. Davis and others," as given above. Harriss returned to the Hall, but did not disperse the negroes. Mr. Ballard again went to him to command him to peace. Your correspondent was standing near, when Harriss remarked to Mr. B. "to make out a warrant against these white men and bring them before him, (Harriss.) Mr. B replied, "I am a Justice of the Peace; I know my duty and will perform it; you have nothing to do with the matter, therefore keep quiet." Mr. B. then went to his office and had Mr. Spence, Clerk of the Superior Court, engaged in making out a warrant against the persons complained of, and others who were prominent in the disturbance; while doing so, he was requested by several of our citizens that not to attempt to arrest any of the parties or have an investigation at that time, as it would take him late in the night to get through, and the attempt might result in a serious difficulty. He acceded to their request.

"T" says that "Harris expressed regrets that the officers (Sheriff and Mayor) had made no arrest." To my knowledge, his every act and expression, was just to the contrary. He constantly cursed the Sheriff and Mayor for not disarming the three white men, and they only drew their pistols while expecting an attack. "Colonel" Harris used the very worst language, often and repeatedly while surrounded by a hundred or more negroes, many of whom were drunk and excited—all of which was calculated, and I honestly believe intended, to arouse the worse passions of the negroes, and inflame their minds to evil and serious consequences. He said that "had he have kept on after them (the three white men) he did not think he could possibly have restrained his men from cutting their d—d throats;" "that he could take his pistol and blow their brains out with more satisfaction than he could go home, or eat," and that "should he have started to Raleigh with them, he did not believe he could reach there with them alive, as he did not think he could possibly resist the temptation to have them killed." Such were the expressions that constantly fell from his lips, while surrounded by negroes. It could only tend to inspire the negroes with a contemptuous disregard for the officers of the law, and of law and order as well. This is the manner in which he endeavored to preserve the peace.

Let us see who instigated the riot. Phil. Hawkins made the negroes drunk off of fusil oil whiskey, thereby rendering them more excitable, and less manageable; Farris attacked Capt. Davis, and got kicked out of Mr. Minnetree's store for it; Galloway headed a mob to attack those who whipped Farriss; Jim Harris, and his worthy peer, Ed. Parrish, your 'Greg Alley' man, headed another mob to arrest the Sheriff, Mayor, and the three white gentlemen. Phil. Hawkins told Harris he ought to arrest the men spoken of, that the Sheriff nor Mayor were worth a d—n! The public will bear in mind, that Phil. Hawkins is a sworn magistrate of the county. He took an oath to preserve the peace and dignity of the State, but, instead of doing his duty, he refuses to make an effort himself, and urges an illegal and irresponsible man on with his mob.

"T" says this, and other difficulties, "came from the lower class." I agree that this one did. I have shown, conclusively, that Phil. Hawkins, Farriss, Jim Harris, and Parish, created the difficulty, and, as "T" aptly says, "they were the lower class,"—at least, if there be any lower, then Heaven defend us from all such! General Phil. Hawkins, Major General Jones, Colonel Jim Harris, C. M. Farriss and Ed Parrish, are eminently fitted for passing judgement upon the social status of any one, they enjoy so many happy privileges themselves. They would gladly give "the hopes of future years," for a few hours possession of the knowledge that they could or did belong to the same class with those whom "T" humorously says belong to "the lower class."

The "scribbler" for the Standard then intimates that "we will be at our posts when General Hawkins or General Jones" may be called upon to 'grace the cake' in our Court Green. They are a dis-grace to everything they come in contact with now, and the idea that their corpus would grace anything, is the most ridiculous effort at wit we ever knew perpetrated.

In conclusion, we will state for Colonel Harris' information, that it requires five Magistrates, or the Sheriff, or the Governor, to call out the militia—that they must be properly organized, and he and his command must always be subject to the orders of the civil officers. We hope he may bear this in mind.

I would also add, that I have heard that Farriss says he "will never come to Louisburg again, until there is a back door made to Minnetree's store." I would suggest that, unless he behaves himself when he does come, that we have a front door through which he can very readily pass, and that he will be protected from outsiders rescuing him either through the door or windows.

These are the facts in the case, as can be testified to by white and colored. If the name of your correspondent is wanted, you are at liberty to give it to all who may call for it, with reference to him for full and satisfactory explanation. He is responsible for the correctness of all herein stated.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.—See the advertisement of that well known and celebrated watering place Buffalo Springs.

Douglas Bell has on hand all kinds of fine Sugars, Flour of all grades, &c.

Sherwood White offers $20 reward for the recovery of a mu'e stolen, on the 26th of July last, from his stables, 9 miles east of Raleigh.

THE MARKET.—Our city market has been pretty full, for several days past—of watermelons. The supply of beef and lamb, too, is pretty good, and of fair quality. Butter is scarce and high; eggs do, while vegetables, owing to the late dry spell, have almost disappeared, except onions and Irish potatoes. Chickens are tolerably plentiful, but at too high a price. Our country friends will likely find sale for any article they may bring in, and fair prices.

MARKET SQ[illegible] stock of the [illegible]onal Estate [illegible]e Lottery, was sold a[illegible] W. H. Jones & Co., [illegible]mission Merchants. Considering that this [illegible]een long chartered by [illegible]ad is not yet extensively [illegible]d this as a good price for [illegible]ompany has had three very [illegible]swings in this city, and is [illegible] a fine business in disposing of [illegible] personal property in this State.

[illegible]OSE TO THE SPRINGS.—We have omit[illegible] to mention that friend Blair of the [illegible]rborough House left the city Thursday [illegible] a short sojourn at the "Sparkling [illegible]awba," for the recuperation of his [illegible]alth. We charge the good people up [illegible]re to take good care of Blair and [illegible]turn him safely, for we can't get along [illegible]ry well without him.

MASONIC NOTICE.—We are requested to give notice to the members of Enoch Council, No. 10, A. F. M., that there will be a meeting of the Council on Monday night, August 2nd, at the Lodge room, at which they are requested to be present.

VARIETY THE SPICE OF LIFE.—At the musical feast at the Court House, last night, Hardi's was a prominent feature. We did not learn whether Brother Butts was present, but two or three sister Butts were. The watchman upon the walls of Zion kept a sharp eye out, we are told, for the sentinel that guards the morals of tax-collectors and other functionaries, and, on the first alarm, disappeared with as much celerity as Ananias did in the Baptist Grove.

MASONIC LECTURES.—At the last Convocation of the Grand Lodge of North Carolina, of Free and Accepted Masons, a complete digest of "The Work" was made and adopted, of which P. M. W. G. M., Robert W. Best, was made the Grand Custodian. We are requested to say that officers of subordinate Lodges and individual members can obtain this work, by calling on the Grand Custodian, and that experienced and qualified Lecturers will be sent by him to any part of the State on application for their services.

Our State exchanges will confer a favor by calling attention to this matter.

From the Norfolk Daily Journal, July 13, 1869.

NEW BUT RELIABLE.—A new remedy for purifying the blood and restoring the liver and kidneys to healthy action, and invigorating the nervous system, has recently been prepared and is now offered for sale to the public by Dr J. J. LAWRENCE, of this city, under the name of KOSKOO. The gentleman by whom this medicine is prepared is not a quack, but a gentleman of well-known integrity in Norfolk, a man of scientific attainments, and a success ful practitioner of medicine, and who has gained a national reputation as discoverer of the celebrated remedy—Rosadalis.

This new medicine, Koskoo, bids fair to outstrip in popularity the former preparations of Dr. Lawrence, and become not only a State but a National medicine.

On Saturday last, and for many days past, the sale in the Norfolk office has amounted to hundreds of bottles, and the demand is still for Koskoo, the greatest remedy of modern times.

We wish Dr. Lawrence abundant success in the sale of his health restoring medicines, and feel that in so doing we direct the attention of the public to a gentleman whose merits deserve a liberal and generous patronage.

WHY SHOULD I INSURE IN THE CONNECTICUT MUTUAL?—Because it is one of the oldest Life Insurance Companies in the country, having an experience of nearly a quarter of a century. It is no experiment, resorting to costly advertisements, extravagant commissions, elegant offices and the constant parading of the names of men of influence who happen to be among its policy-holders, which has become with some new corporations a favorite method of furthering their business. It asks the endorsement of no man or set of men. The thousands of families scattered throughout the entire Continent, who have been made comfortable through the agency of this Company, sufficiently attest its career of usefulness.

It is a national company, as every life insurance company worthy of the name should strive to be. It panders to no sectional prejudices, and insures people under no "world-wide policies." Its members number about sixty thousand persons, who reside in the healthy districts of the United States.

It is a purely mutual company, dividing all its surplus among the members in proportion to their payments. The past dividends of this company have averaged larger than those of any life company in existence, and the same rules of economy and prudence which have accomplished this result in the past, will be strictly adhered to in the future. Its accumulations have reached the enormous sum of TWENTY FIVE MILLION DOLLARS, and its daily receipts average over THIRTY THOUSAND DOLLARS. It has surplus assets over all liabilities of over SEVEN MILLION DOLLARS. Its receipts for interest during 1868 was over ONE MILLION AND A HALF, which paid all its losses and left a surplus from this source alone, of over THREE HUNDRED AND FIFTY THOUSAND DOLLARS. It has paid to the families of deceased members, EIGHT MILLION FIVE HUNDRED THOUSAND DOLLARS, thus placing beyond the reach of the pangs of poverty nearly twelve thousand persons. The dividends already returned to the members of this company amount to over SIX MILLION DOLLARS.

The Connecticut Mutual is managed by experienced men who thoroughly understand the science of life insurance. The public should understand that life insurance is a science, and that no man or set of men, no matter how prominent or honest, should be entrusted with the management of a life insurance company, unless they are assisted by a thorough and competent Actuary, who is both intelligent and honest. An adroit schemer well up in the trickerys which have been practiced in England for the last fifty years in life insurance, can lead men who, as bankers, merchants etc., are eminently successful and thoroughly honest, to endorse plans of business which are seemingly fair, but which will eventually end in the ruin of the company. To those who desire insurance in a SAFE, ECONOMICAL, NATIONAL life insurance company, we invite to examine the plans of the Connecticut Mutual.

WIDE SPREAD USEFULNESS.—The relief of the wants of the deserving poor, and especially of widows and orphans, whose natural provider has been lost to them, is a subject which has been forced upon the attention of communities and individuals through all history, and many plans of systematic relief have been discussed.—Great good has been done by the aid thus given to those unable to help themselves; but, after all, charity is not the best way in which such help can be secured. To accept of alms involves, in some degree, a loss of self-respect and independence. What is wanted is some system by which, at small gradual cost, every laboring man may make sure of leaving to his family, when death takes him away, a sum sufficient to keep the wolf from the door. Such a plan is offered to the public in the advertisement of the National Life Insurance Company in another column. The general features of the management of this Company are there noted, and the local agents will cheerfully give any further information as to the peculiar advantages offered. The "National Life" was chartered by Congress less than one year ago; it began business in August last, having then to establish its entire system of agencies, and to distribute information among the people as to its character and purposes. Both of these things have been done; the entire country and the Canadian Dominion are now covered by its general and sub agencies, and liberal advertising has made the name of the Company familiar throughout the land.—The result has surprised even its incorporators and officers. In ten months nearly 5,400 policies, covering over $15,000,000 insurance have been issued, this amount of business being nearly double that ever done by any other Company in the world during the entire first year of its existence. Such an unprecedented success should not only inspire unusual confidence in the organization so emphatically endorsed, but be the subject of general congratulation that the new Company has been able to do so much for the future comfort of the families insured. Every family thus protected from want is a proportionate diminution of future taxation, temptation and crime.

Low cash rates, and a plain business contract of as much insurance for so much money (avoiding all uncertainties of notes or dividends) are prominent features of the plan pursued by the National Life. Its capital is ample, its Officers and Directors men of unquestioned honor and ability, and its system of business is straightforward and business-like. It deserves its success, and it has already taken front rank among institutions of its kind.

See advertisement of P. F. Pescud, the successful and very popular General Agent, for N. C., in another column.

Bishop Kip, of California, and Bishop Whitehouse, of Illinois, reject the word "Protestant" from the name of the Protestant Episcopal Church. They believe in sticking to the creed which speaks of the "holy Catholic," not "Protestant" Church.

STATE NEWS.

CONSPIRACY TO ROB, MURDER AND BURN.—John Kenan, a negro now confined in jail on a criminal charge, as a State's witness yesterday gave evidence before Justice McQuigg against Gibbs Pigford, Jack Bannerman and Wright Bannerman (colored,) with whom Kenan was then concerned, of a conspiracy to rob and burn the barn of Mr. J. J. Moore in this county and to murder Mr. Moore, should he appear when the plan was being executed. This conspiracy was formed in March last, and on the oath of this prisoner the accused parties were committed to jail to await their trial at the next term of the Superior Court in default of bail in the sum of $300 each.—Wil. Journal.

LARGE SALE OF SPIRITS.—The sales of spirits of turpentine in this market recently have been unusually large. During the week ending last night 3,200 casks were sold—the larger portion being bought for foreign exportation. The sales yesterday alone reached 1,523 casks.

MARSHAL'S SALE.—Col. S. T. Carrow, U. S. Marshal, yesterday, sold 83 boxes of tobacco, condemned for non-payment of tax at the Spring term of the U. S. Circuit Court. Messrs. W. H. Jones & Co., of Raleigh, bought 38 boxes, Messrs. Adrian & Vollers 40 boxes, and Mr. H Burkheimer 5 boxes, at prices ranging from 40 to 70 cents per pound.

W. C. & R. RAILROAD.—The meeting of the Stockholders of this Company came off on Thursday. Our Wilmington exchanges received yesterday noon give us the proceedings of only the first day. We will give a condensed statement of the proceedings when they are received.

On Thursday the Stockholders elected on their part, Messrs. R. H. Cowan, S. J. Person, H. W. Guion, W. L. Steele, B. H. Sumner, and A. R. Holmes, as Directors.

Mr. R. C. Badger announced, as State Directors appointed by the Governor, Messrs. Wm. Sloan, W. A. Smith, John L. Brown John P. Aydlett, S. P. Sherrill, James McDonald and Joseph S. Cannon.

C. L. Harris, Superintendent of Public Works, announced his appointees of State Directors, viz: Messrs. G. W. Logan, J. H. Neff, D. L. Russell, Alfred Dockery, T. M. Smith, Dickson Ingram and G. Z. French.

The day was consumed in considering resolutions in regard to the recognition of the rival appointments, but no vote was had before adjournment.

We learn, privately, that on yesterday the appointments by the Governor were recognized by the meeting.

ARTIFICAL BEAUTY.

In a recent trial in London, Madame Rachel, the celebrated female enameler, put in an affidavit, in which, among other things, she testified as follows:

"Since my removal to Bond street I have had, and still have, much patronage and custom from the nobility and aristocracy generally, and I obtain a high rate of remuneration for the services rendered, and high prices for the articles which I supply. In 1866 an offer was made to me to go to America to establish a business there, and my attorney arranged to accompany me as my legal adviser and general manager, but owing to a serious accident in Paris, by which I was dangerously injured, the offer could not be accepted nor the arrangement carried out. Mrs. Mary Tucker Borrodaile first became one of my customers twenty years ago, when she was the wife of an Indian officer; and, during the time she was in India with her husband, I supplied her both with articles of clothing and in the way of my trade and business.

"In May, 1866, Mrs. Borrodaile was desirous of being enamelled by me, for which my fee is and has been for many years one thousand guineas, and she proposed to give me her acceptance for £1,000, payable at Messrs. Grindley's bank, but not including the odd £50 which it is always understood is to be given to the poor by my customer or myself, and which Mrs. Borrodaile elected to pay on her own account. From the representation I received from my attorney I consented to take her acceptance, and Mrs. Borrodaile went through the entire process of enamelling and beautifying.—She at that time had scarcely any hair on her head, except here and there rusty gray patches, and her skin was in a frightful state of eruption from disease of many years' standing, which had caused her the loss of her teeth. Her two setts of teeth she ordered of Mr. Eskell, dentist, of Hanover square, and for these I have already paid fifty guineas on her account, leaving ten guineas still due on that account. She now has a head of beautiful natural golden hair by my process of restoration, and her skin has become young and fresh, and perfectly healthy. On the 10th of June, 1866, I lent Mrs. Borrodaile £500 in cash, for which I took a receipt and her bill at a month. Both acceptances were dishonored, and, although I haned them over to my attorney to recover the amounts, I have never to my knowledge been paid, although on the 5th of July, 1866, Mrs. Borrodaile sold out, through the attorney, £968 stock for that purpose. On the 14th of July, 1866, I sold Mrs. Borrodaile jewelry to the amount of £50, for which she gave me her I O U, and, although I handed it over to the attorney for him to get it paid, I have not received the money."

BUFFALOES ON A RAILWAY TRACK.—A correspondent of the Chicago "Tribune" writes from Sheridan, Kansas:

"Vast herds of buffalo graze along the line of the railroad, and are frequently seen from the cars, and not unfrequently so near that many are shot with rifles in the hands of passengers while the cars are in motion. Yesterday we saw upwards of thirty, by actual count, but about half a mile off.—We also saw several elk and antelope, and one wolfe, and dined on venison and buffalo steak. Sometimes a large herd has been surprised near the track by a train of cars. The shrieking of the whistle and the rushing of the train has produced such a panic of fear that the herd has rushed pell mell along, in the same direction with the train and at almost as great speed, thus affording splendid opportunity for shooting from the cars. In one case the engine killed several which were on the track. Numerous carcases are seen of the noble animals, which have been slaughtered and left to perish along the line of the road from Ellsworth to Sheridan. Sheridan has about one thousand inhabitants, principally transient tradesmen and hotel and boarding house keepers."

GEN. FRANK P. BLAIR, JR., was hissed by a party of Mongrel military officers, for saying that "the names of Lee and Jackson will one day be as much on the tongue of Americans as those of Farragut and Sherman." We almost think he deserved to be hissed for coupling the name of Lee with such an old booby as Farragut, or for speaking of Stonewall Jackson in connection with such a crazy Church-burners and woman whipper as Sherman. We furthermore think that Gen. Blair deserved the insult he received, for being found in the company of such a cancus of military conspirators as met at Long Branch.—New York Day Book.

The fence of a graveyard in Richmond, Ind., bears the inscription, in large white letters, "Use ——'s bitters, if you would keep out of here."

TELEGRAPHIC.

LAST NIGHT'S DISPATCHES.

WASHINGTON.

WASHINGTON, July 30.—Revenue to-day over a million.

The President leaves to-night.

Sherman and Rawlins were consulted to-day regarding the efficiency and economy of the military in the South.

Creswell is still confined from his recent hurt.

Appointment Clerk Thos. L. Tullock has been appointed Revenue Collector for this district.

The President has appointed Hiram E. Stilley Assessor of the first North Carolina District, and W. D. Jones for the fourth District.

In order to secure a fair election in Mississippi the President will order the Board of Registrars for each County to be composed of one Radical, one Conservative and one military officer. The President will at present not interfere in favor of either party.

WASHINGTON, July 30.

Hon. Lewis Dent, Washington City:

DEAR SIR:—Having seen certain dispatches to the New York Press renewing the report that you would decline the candidacy for Governor of Mississippi on the National Union Republican ticket, we desire to know whether you adhere to your previously expressed determination on that subject. For the purpose of putting this matter finally at rest, we trust you will favor us with an early response. Very respectfully, &c.,

E. JEFFORDS,
GEO. A COOKMAN.

WASHINGTON, July 30, 1869.

Gentlemen: In replying to your communication, I beg leave to say that, while I cannot decline what has not been formally proffered me, you are at liberty to say to the national republican party and the people of Mississippi generally, that in the event of my nomination I shall certainly accept it. I have never authorized any person to say I would decline a nomination if tendered me by the National Union Republican party of Mississippi, and I again assure you that my purpose to that end remains fixed and unalterable. I earnestly desire the restoration of the Southern States with Constitutions and laws that will effectually secure the civil and political rights of all persons.

Very respectfully, Yours, &c.,
LEWIS DENT.

To Col. MOORMAN and JUDGE JEFFORDS.

FOREIGN.

LIVERPOOL, July 31.—The Cotton Supply Association have adopted a resolution looking to the development of railways in India. In order to facilitate the exportation of cotton from that country this course is taken in consequence of the inefficiency of the supply from the United States. The stock of American cotton is not large enough to keep the mills of Lancashire fully engaged.

MADRID, July 30.—The Carlist movement may be regarded as having died out.

AFTERNOON DISPATCHES.

NEW YORK.

NEW YORK, July 31.—The steamer "Alaska" has arrived, bringing advices from Aspinwall to the 23d. Frequent gales have occurred upon the coast of Chili. The American Schooner "Rippling Wave," has been wrecked.

Small pox is prevailing at Vesparisa, and yellow fever at Rio Janeiro.

Henry Keep is dead, and the Board adjourned in consequence.

FROM RICHMOND.

RICHMOND, July 31.—J. W. Jenkins Chairman of the State Central Committee, of the Wells Republican party having written a letter to Dr. Gobner, Chairman of the State Central Committee of the Walker Republican party, urging that the two parties now reunite for carrying out Republican principles in the State. The latter gentlemen writes a letter in reply, saying, that the Walker Republicans left the Wells party because they were either forced to do so, or oppose the policy of the President. After alluding to the almost unanimous condemnation of Republican principles by the rulers of the State, and asserting that the colored people who were misled by the Wells leaders are now "flocking by hundreds to the Grant Walker standard." He concludes as follows: "You ask for a coalition of the two wings of the Republican party—I cannot admit that the party is divided on the contrary I claim that the Grant-Walker party is the National Republican party of Virginia, representing the policy of the President and of Congress, and as such has no divisions to heal.

To the late Wells party I have only to say, we shall gladly welcome them to our ranks, for we are unwilling to deprive any class of men of the innumerable blessings that must flow to Virginia from an unequivocal enforcement of those national principles of which President Grant and Congress are the head and front.

Col. Thos. F. August, a prominent lawyer, died this morning. He was an officer in the Mexican war and a Colonel of the 15th Virginia Confederate Regiment during the late war, and former State Senator from this District.

MARKETS.

NEW YORK, July 31.—Money steady at 6 to 7. Sterling 9½. Gold 36½. 62's 20½.

Flour drooping. Wheat scarcely so firm. Corn dull, 1 to 2 cents lower. Pork quiet at 33. Lard dull. Cotton quiet, 32½ to 33¼.

LONDON, July 31, M.—Consols 93½. Bonds 83½.

LIVERPOOL, July 31, M. Cotton active. Uplands 12¾. Orleans 12¾ to 13. Sales 15,000 bales.

Valuable Property for Sale in Raleigh and Wake County.

PURSUANT to a decree of the Court of Equity for this County, I, as Commissioner, will sell at the Court House, to the highest bidder, all of the Real Estate of the late Sarah Stronach, dec'd, to wit:

One House and Lot, in the City of Raleigh, containing two acres, more or less; said house in fair condition, has six rooms and good basement. On the Lot there is a very fine Well of Water and all necessary out-houses. The fences are nearly all of new and sound timber, and the soil is fine condition. There are quite a number of Shade and Fruit Trees on the premises. Also a Lot containing three-fourths of an acre, more or less, near the above mentioned one. Both Lots are on Hargett Street, just beyond the city Cemetery, and on the direct road to the "State Fair Grounds." Also a Tract of Land about five miles from the City, which is very well timbered, and adjoins the lands of W. E. Pierce and others.

This property will be sold on the 28th day of August A. D. 1869.

Terms made known on day of sale.

"Fresh as a Maiden's Blush" is the pure peachy Complexion which follows the use of Hagan's Magnolia Balm. It is the True Secret of Beauty. Fashionable Ladies in Society understand this.

The Magnolia Balm changes the rustic Country Girl into a City Belle more rapidly than any other one thing.

Redness, Sunburn, Tan, Freckles, Blotches and all effects of the Summer Sun disappear where it is used, and a genial, cultivated, fresh expression is obtained which rivals the Bloom of Youth. Beauty is possible to all who will invest 75 cents at any respectable store and insist on getting the Magnolia Balm.

ÆTNA

LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY,

JANUARY 1ST., 1869.

Assets $10,462,531,75.

Amount of Income 6,227,071.

SURPLUS OVER LIABILITIES 2,675,999,48.

THE Ætna is the LEADING LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY in North Carolina.

Largest amount of Losses to Widows and Orphans!

The Largest Revenue to the States. And has by far the largest number when compared with 58 Companies reported officially by the Commissioners of New York and Massachusetts it will be seen that the Ætna ranks as one of the first Companies of the Continent. But two of the fifty-eight Companies permitted to do business in New York and Massachusetts had so large an income for the year 1868; but two had so large a number of Policies in force, but one among all those incorporated under the laws of the State of New York had so small a per centage of Expense to Income during the year 1868.

Its expenses are lower than most Companies', and consequently its ability to make and pay liberal dividends to the insured is greater than that of most other Companies. It is one of the great Companies of the land in Income, in Assets, in Number of Policies, in Amount Insured, in Solidity and Strength, in Soundness, Cheapness, Promptness, and Success. Persons contemplating this mode of investment in the future as in the past would do well to examine the claims of all and take a policy accordingly.

SPARKLING CATAWBA SPRINGS,

CATAWBA COUNTY, N. C.

THIS CELEBRATED WATERING PLACE, formerly called the North Carolina White sulphur Springs, will be open for visitors on Tuesday, the first day of June next.

Being situated in the northwestern part of the State in a country remarkable for its beauty and healthfulness—these, together with the virtue of the waters, make it one of the most desirable watering places to be found.

The MINERAL WATERS of these Springs are the White and Blue Sulphur and Chalybeate or Iron, and they possess all the finest qualities of these waters, and are sovereign remedies for all diseases of the liver, bowels, stomach and kidneys, eruptions of the skin, scrofula, weakness, debility dyspepsia, rheumatism, &c.

The proprietor having spent a large amount in additional buildings and improvement to generally, these Springs are now in a fine condition, rooms large and pleasant, and good cottages containing from two to six rooms each, well arranged for either large or small families.

Good TEN PIN ALLEYS, BILLIARD TABLES and other amusements.

FINE BATH HOUSES, for Pool, Plunge or Shower Bath, Sulphur Bath, Hot or Cold.

A GOOD BAND OF MUSIC

Will be at the Springs the entire season, and a good Physician permanently located for the benefit of invalids, who will have every attention.

Having secured the services of Mr. J. N. CARTER, of Virginia, who has had much experience and stands high as a Hotel keeper, visitors may rest assured that my table will be supplied with the best the market can afford and everything done that will add to their pleasure and comfort.

The cars on the Western North Carolina Rail Road will leave Salisbury for Hickory Station, the Springs' depot, every morning, (Sundays excepted,) in connection with the North Carolina Railroad, avoiding stoppage or delay at Salisbury, and arrive at Hickory Station in time for breakfast, where good hacks will be in readiness to take passengers over a beautiful, well-shaded road to the Springs—a distance of six miles.

As an inducement for families and parties to spend two months or more, I have concluded to put board down at the following low rates:

BOARD:

For one single month,	$50 00
For two or more months, $40 per month, or at that rate.
Per week,	16 00
Per day,	2 50

Children under ten years of age and colored servants, half price. No charge for infants or children under two years of age.

Ayer's Sarsaparilla,

FOR PURIFYING THE BLOOD.

The reputation this excellent medicine enjoys, is derived from its cures, many of which are of a truly marvellous character. Inveterate cases of scrofula, where the system seemed utterly given up to corruption, have yielded to this compound of anti-strumous virtues. Disorders of a scrofulous type, and affections which are merely aggravated by the presence of scrofulous matter, have been radically cured in such numerous instances, in every settlement in the country, that the public do not need to be informed here that it is in most cases a specific and absolute remedy.

Scrofulous poison is one of the most destructive enemies of our race. Often, this unseen and unfelt tenant of the organism undermines the constitution, and invites the attack of enfeebling or fatal diseases, without exciting a suspicion of its presence. Again, it seems to breed infection throughout the body, and then, on some favorable occasion, rapidly develops into one or other of its hideous forms, either on the surface or among the vitals. In the latter, tubercles may be suddenly deposited in the lungs or heart, or tumors formed in the liver. These facts make the occasional use of the Sarsaparilla as a preventive, advisable.

It is a mistake to suppose that so long as no eruptions or humors appear, there must be no scrofulous taint. These forms of derangement may never occur, and yet the vital forces of the body be so reduced by its subtle agency, as materially to impair the health and shorten the duration of life. It is a common error, also, that scrofula is strictly hereditary. It does, indeed, descend from parent to child, but is also engendered in persons born of pure blood. Low living, indigestion, foul air, pernicious habits, uncleanliness, and the depressing vices generally, produce it. Weakly constitutions, where not fortified by the most constant and judicious care, are peculiarly liable to it. Yet the robust, also, whose turbid blood swells the veins with an apparently exuberant vitality, are often contaminated, and on the road to its consequences. Indeed, no class or condition can depend on immunity from it, nor feel insensible to the importance of an effectual remedy.

In St. Anthony's Fire, Rose or Erysipelas, for Tetter, Salt Rheum, Scald Head, Ringworm, Sore Ears and Eyes, and other eruptive or visible forms of the diseases caused primarily by the scrofulous infection, the Sarsaparilla is of sufficient as to be indispensable. And in the more concealed forms, as in *Dyspepsia, Dropsy, Heart Disease, Fits, Epilepsy, Neuralg

TOIL ON.

BY IDA W. MORRIS.

Drearily passes the day,
Dreamily falls the rain;
Bending low my head I pray
That God will soothe my pain.

Hearts that are weary and worn,
Heads that are heavy with care,
Hopes that are blighted and torn,
Have no relief, but prayer.

Welcome's the love that is true,
Wretched the hate unkind,
Wistful the hope, ever new
For tranquil peace of mind.

Toil on in faith forever,
Trust in God to the end;
He will forsake us never.
And blessed guidance send.

The Age of Progress.

We publish to-day, the first scheme in the sale of Real and Personal Esta e—a Company chartered by the last Legislature, with a capital of one hundred and thirty thousand dollars, and with power to increase that amount to five hundred thousand dollars. An examination of the charter satisfies us that the Company is pursuing a legitimate business; they are empowered to "dispose of Real and Personal Estate in any mode or form they may deem best," and "all laws, or clauses of laws, coming in conflict with said charter are hereby repealed." This is plain and unmistakable English, and we have no doubt the transactions of the Company will prove beneficial to the property holders of North Carolina. For example: Mr. A. owns a piece of real estate which he wishes to dispose of. He throws it upon the market, and fails to get a bid that would warrant him in making a deed. He then places it in the hands of the North Carolina Real and Personal Estate Agency, at a fair valuation, and the property is sold by chance—the owner gets his price—the Company a fair and reasonable compensation for selling—and some poor man, for two dollars comes in possession of a home-stead, which, under any other circumstances, he would not have owned.

In fact, we do not view the Company as a Lottery—it is what it purports to be, a simple Agency for the sale of property, for its true value, which, otherwise would be sacrificed.

We refer our readers to the advertisement—the splendid real estate offered, and the other rich prizes, amounting in all to THREE THOUSAND AND ONE—and the reader will perceive, by the simple rule of division, that there is one prize to every twenty-four tickets.

The General Agent of the Company has given us a call, and assures us, that the success of the Company is no longer a problem. In thirty-five counties through which he has just traveled, he represents the people as being enthusiastic in favor of it—both as to investing, and the placing of property in the hands of the Company for sale. He represents teat already, before the first grand drawing has taken place, applications to sell, amounting to half a million dollars, are on file in the Secretary's office.

We learn from the Raleigh papers, that the explanatory drawing which took place in the city of Raleigh, on Saturday last, passed off to the decided satisfaction of a large audience assembled in Tucker Hall to witness it.—Wil. Post.

One three cent stamp must accompany every order. All tickets will have the seal of the Company and signature of the Secretary.

☞ We refer to any Merchant, Banker or gentleman of standing in the city of Raleigh.

WARRENTON FEMALE COLLEGE,

WARREN CO., N. C.

THIS INSTITUTION WILL BE OPENED on the 12th of August, under the direction of Rev. T. M. Jones, formerly President of Greensboro Female College.
Warrenton, three miles from the Raleigh and Gaston Rail Road, has long been famous for health and refined and intelligent society.
The College buildings, situated in a beautiful grove, in a retired part of the village, are large and commodious, and will be put in thorough repair and well fitted up for school purposes.
With long experience in connection with Female Colleges, a large library, an extensive Chemical and Philosophical Apparatus, and the aid of an able Faculty, among whom is that accomplished scholar and musician, Prof. F. J. Haig, we offer superior facilities to young ladies desiring to become well educated and highly accomplished.
Board, exclusive of washing and lights, and
